

Dear Mr. von Bismarck,

We are in receipt of your letter dated October 9, 2024. TPI remains committed to sourcing balsa wood from sustainable sources for the production of wind turbine blades and has established various contractual and due diligence processes to support this commitment. Due to confidentiality concerns, TPI will not comment on specific details of our contracts and relationships with our customers and suppliers. We would be happy to have a call with you to give you an overview of our balsa sourcing practices and processes and invite you to refer our most recent sustainability report that can be found at the following link.
